Make it hOurTime…

Doña Ana Communities United (DACU) coordinates a binational timebank. Once you join hOurTime, you can exchange free services with other members. If you like to garden, you might donate an hour of your time to weed someone's yard. Then you can redeem that hour for services you need. You can manage your account online, and mentors are available to help you. It's all free! We hold monthly orientations. After you attend one, you are eligible to join!

Timebanks build social cohesion, decrease loneliness, and have positive impacts on health. They are also a way for us to gain experience with an alternative economic model: one that values everyone's time equally and recognizes we all have something valuable to offer. Contact us to get involved!

Engage to improve our community…

DACU is conducting social equity mapping in Las Cruces and Chaparral. Community members explore their neighborhoods and then engage with government staff and elected officials to bring health inequities as well as community assets to light. All of us then work together to develop solutions that advance health equity. Our current efforts focus on complete streets. Contact us to get involved!

Make it hOurTime…

Doña Ana Communities United (DACU) coordinates a binational timebank. Once you join hOurTime, you can exchange free services with other members. If you like to garden, you might donate an hour of your time to weed someone's yard. Then you can redeem that hour for services you need. You can manage your account online, and mentors are available to help you. It's all free! We hold monthly orientations. After you attend one, you are eligible to join!

Timebanks build social cohesion, decrease loneliness, and have positive impacts on health. They are also a way for us to gain experience with an alternative economic model: one that values everyone's time equally and recognizes we all have something valuable to offer. Contact us to get involved!

Engage to improve our community…

DACU is conducting social equity mapping in Las Cruces and Chaparral. Community members explore their neighborhoods and then engage with government staff and elected officials to bring health inequities as well as community assets to light. All of us then work together to develop solutions that advance health equity. Our current efforts focus on complete streets. Contact us to get involved!

Doña Ana Communities United

Website: www.da-cu.org
Facebook and Twitter: @DACUnited
Office: 151 S. Walnut, Unit B13
(southeast corner of Walnut and Griggs)

Doña Ana Communities United (DACU) builds the capacity of communities to develop and implement policies and community-based solutions that improve social, economic, and environmental conditions that shape health and life opportunities. We work to advance health equity in our county by addressing institutional inequities related to geography, class, gender, and race. We are a nonpartisan organization and we welcome everyone to join us!

Timebank Potluck For prospective and current timebank members Dec. 11 | 6-8 PM Jan. 19 | 6-8 PM DACU Office	Timebank Orientation For prospective timebank members only Jan. 13 | 2-3:30 PM DACU Office	DACU Team Meeting All welcome Jan. 25|11 AM-1 PM DACU office

Kari Bachman, Director 575-496-4330 dacukari@gmail.com

Doña Ana Communities United

Website: www.da-cu.org
Facebook and Twitter: @DACUnited
Office: 151 S. Walnut, Unit B13
(southeast corner of Walnut and Griggs)

Doña Ana Communities United (DACU) builds the capacity of communities to develop and implement policies and community-based solutions that improve social, economic, and environmental conditions that shape health and life opportunities. We work to advance health equity in our county by addressing institutional inequities related to geography, class, gender, and race. We are a nonpartisan organization and we welcome everyone to join us!

Timebank Potluck For prospective and current timebank members Dec. 11 | 6-8 PM Jan. 19 | 6-8 PM DACU Office	Timebank Orientation For prospective timebank members only Jan. 13 | 2-3:30 PM DACU Office	DACU Team Meeting All welcome Jan. 25|11 AM-1 PM DACU office

Kari Bachman, Director 575-496-4330 dacukari@gmail.com